Dear Prof. Chen,

It gives us great pleasure to invite you to attend the 11th International Conference on Materials for Advanced Technologies (ICMAT 2013), to be held in Suntec, Singapore, from 26 to 30 June 2023. Your paper entitled “Overview of Terahertz Microfluidic and Its Application in Volatile Organic Compounds in Liquid Phase” has been accepted for presentation at this conference. The international and local organizing committees are looking forward to your participation of the conference and thank you for your scientific contribution.

I will also invite you to visit the TeraX Labs at Nanyang Technological University for 2-3 days prior to ICMAT 2013. We will discuss about collaborating on the microfluidic review paper as well as any 6G related works.

This letter is the invitation to assist you with applying a Singapore visa. I look forward to seeing you in Singapore.

Sincerely yours,
